Good dive today. Conditions were calm enough to get in at the point. Entry was uneventful and we surface kicked out past the kelp bed and dropped. Vis was 10-15ft but a bit less than yesterday. Teamed up with Chris and while we had same sized tanks, he blew through his air a bit fast. We had to surface after 40min in and surface kicked in. Saw the usual critters, and had to swim against a slight current..
